Course Description:
This course investigates the scientific field of study known as organizational behavior (OB). OB aims to understand and predict behavior of individuals and groups within organizations with the ultimate objective of improving organizational effectiveness and efficiency. Especially in the contemporary global business settings, it is important to take into consideration the influence of culture and, specifically the challenges of working in diverse teams and organizations. To incorporate the notion of diversity, students will work and complete assignments throughout the semester as part of teams, which consist of students with diverse backgrounds. By the end of the semester, students will have developed a thorough understanding of concepts such as personality, attitudes, perception, motivation, teamwork, and leadership.

Course Procedures & Policies:

EXAMS: There will be two midterm exams. All of the exams will relate to the assigned topics from the recommended OB textbooks and lecture notes, class discussions of simulations and any other supplemental work (e.g. cases, exercises, videos discussed in class and posted on the ODTUCLASS course page). There will be NO final exam.

The timetable for the exams will be as follows:

Midterm 1 - Nov 13

Midterm 2 - Jan 3

QUIZZES: There will be two online quizzes administered through ODTUCLASS. The timetable for the exams will be as follows:

Midterm 1 - Nov 8
Midterm 2 – Dec 27

SIMULATIONS: Students will participate in three simulations. Simulations are group work. Groups will be formed by the instructor and announced on the ODTUCLASS course page. For each simulation, teams will upload two outputs the ODTUCLASS course page. One output is the 30-minute video of the team decision meeting. The second is the team reflection paper. The simulation materials and requirements will be provided in detail the ODTUCLASS course page. The dates for the simulation outputs will be announced later.

Please note that late assignments will not be accepted.

PARTICIPATION TO AN ENTREPRENEURSHIP GAME (Extra-Credit): At the end of the semester, students will be given an opportunity to participate in an online entrepreneurship game for extra-credit. Details will be provided later in the semester on the ODTUCLASS course page.

INFORMED CONSENT: All students should sign and upload the informed consent form available on the ODTUCLASS course page.

WORKING IN TEAMS: It is expected that all team members participate equally in the assigned activities. To encourage that all members of a group do their part, peer evaluations will be performed. Peer evaluation forms will be provided later in the semester. They should be completed by every team member privately. Peer evaluations will be held strictly confidential.

All members of the team will receive the same grade for all of the activities, except in such instances as there is a consensus in the team that a certain individual or individuals have not contributed equally to the group work. In such cases, I reserve the right to make a judgment regarding the percentage of the team grade that will be received by such individuals.

PROFESSIONALISM & COURTESY: Important in any class, but especially in this class emphasizing managerial behavior critical to organizational performance, are the same kinds of maturity and professionalism that one exhibits on the job. I will reward students based on his or her level of class demeanor and attitude; I will refer to it as a student's "P&C" score." P&C score will be influenced by the following factors:

1. Class attendance Every class period has something to offer you and is designed to present specific information and learning exercises that enable you to develop a well-rounded approach to organizational behavior. This course is one of several preparing you for the world of work. Poor attendance is not tolerated in the business world and will not be in the classroom.
2. Coming to class fully prepared. Much of the learning in this course takes place during classroom discussions. When students are not prepared, they cannot contribute to the learning process. This affects not only the individual but also the classmates who count on them.
3. Students respect the views and opinions of their colleagues. Disagreement and debate are encouraged; however, intolerance for the views of others is unacceptable
4. Giving one's fellow classmates and the instructor the floor when they are speaking.
5. Being courteous and supportive of one's classmates and instructor to enhance the learning climate of the class.
6. Coming to class on time and staying for the complete class until excused.

Note that P&C score is based upon my evaluation of your performance. My perception of your behavior may be different than yours. P&C score will influence your final letter grade (extra-credit).

STUDENT DISABILITIES: Any student, who, because of a disabling condition, may require special arrangements in order to meet course requirements, should contact the instructor as soon as possible.

Students should present the appropriate documentation from the university's Disability Support Office (Engelsiz ODTÜ Birimi, ODTÜ Kütüphanesi, Solmaz İzdemir Salonu, Tel: 210.7196; engelsiz@metu.edu.tr) verifying their disability, and outlining the special arrangements required. Please note that no accommodations will be provided to the disabled students prior to the completion of this approved University process.

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY: The Department of Business Administration has no tolerance for acts of academic dishonesty. Such acts damage the reputation of METU, the department and the BA/MBA/MS degree and demean the honest efforts of the majority of the students. The minimum penalty for an act of academic dishonesty will be a zero for that assignment or exam.

CHEATING: All university, faculty/institute, and department principles on academic honesty will be strictly enforced. The usual consequence for academic dishonesty is failure of the course and referral of the case to the Dean of the Faculty/Institute for additional disciplinary action. Examinations are individual and are to be completed without outside assistance of any sort. Persons observed cheating during examinations will receive a failing grade in the course. Homework assignments are individual, unless otherwise specified by the instructor, and are to be completed without outside assistance of any sort, as well. Persons observed cheating in their homework assignments will receive a score of zero for the portion of the semester grade that is allocated to such assignments.

PLAGIARISM: The instructor assumes that students will do their own work. By placing their names on assignments (individual or team), students are affirming that the contents are their original work. Any previous work available from files or past students, as well as materials available on the internet may be used only as a suggestive model. Violation of this provision will be considered as unethical behavior, subject to disciplinary action. If you have any doubt about the use of a specific material, see the instructor ahead of time. Any material used from outside sources should be referenced appropriately.

METU HONOR CODE

Every member of METU community adopts the following honor code as one of the core principles of academic life and strives to develop an academic environment where continuous adherence to this code is promoted.

"The members of the METU community are reliable, responsible and honorable people who embrace only the success and recognition they deserve, and act with integrity in their use, evaluation and presentation of facts, data and documents."

The following timetable is tentative. I reserve the right to make changes as I see fit. The lectures will stress the most important and/or most difficult material. The topics are discussed in all the recommended books, but in a different order. Therefore, I do not give chapter numbers. But, I expect you to read the relevant chapters from the book of your choice and watch the video lectures provided at oduclass before attending class sessions.
